May 5th Cinco de Mayo

- Cinco de Mayo is Spanish for May 5th, or the fifth of May.
- The holiday is a tribute to the battle of Puebla, which was won under the command of Ignacio Zaragoza (not to be confused with Mexico's celebration of independence from Spain, which is September 16).
- In many U.S. cities, there are parades and festivities featuring mariachi music, dancing, and Mexican food.

MEMORIAL DAY

- Memorial Day is a day to honor and remember our fellow Americans who died while serving in the U.S. military.
- Traditionally, the American Flag should be lowered to half-staff until noon, then raised back to the top.
- All Americans are encouraged to pause for the National Moment of Remembrance at 3:00 PM local time.
